

CROESO in Wrexham

The Commission for Racial Equality [CRE] launched its Croeso initiative in November 2005. This is a touring exhibition based on the life of Paul Robeson. It aims to promote diversity, active integration and a welcoming atmosphere in all communities, workplaces and institutions.

The exhibition along with theatre and art activities will be in Wrexham Memorial Hall for 2 weeks from 28th February 2006 and groups of school children aged 7-11yrs will be invited to attend.

A range of free open seminars detailed below has also been arranged for the general public and professionals to support this initiative and to promote cohesion within the County Borough. This is your opportunity to find out more about some of Wrexham's diverse communities:
